PROGRESS BEING MADE BY $5,000,000 DOCK CO

The editor of the News enjoyed an automobile ride around the southern water f ront of Richmond last evening with John Nicholl, visiting all the points of interest relative to the new $5,000,000 dock and factory company whch is to occupy much of that territory with its new docks, warehouses and factory buildings.

Mr. Nicholl went into many details not heretofore made public, and pointed out the exact places where the dredging of the deep channel was to be made, where the new land from the dredging would be, where the many big docks would extend out into the waters of the bay, where the Belt Line railroad would be extended to, where the rock quarries were to be worked and where the product would go. It was all most interesting, and the wonder of it all is that so many of the needed elements for this gigantic undertaking are all bunched there together where they are immediately available—and behind them all a growing city, with its great oil works, transcontinental railroads, and other advantages.

The engineers of the new holding company have been here and have passed favorably on the big plan and its various details, and the latter are now being worked out with precision. The great project has been financed, mostly by English capital, led by Sir Robert Perkes of London, and a part of the money paid in. No stock in the corporation is for sale.

Permission has been granted by the federal government this week to extend the present line of the harbor bulkhead 400 feet further out than was first surveyed. This is so more land can be made on which to build the many factory buildings which will be erected by the company. This will give fully 3000 feet of new land out from the present shore line, and the docks are to be 1000 feet long, with the wharf buildings not so high as the municipal wharf, but fully 180 feet wide. These docks are to extend from the municipal wharf clear along the shore line to Nicholl Point, or old Point Potrero. They will not go straight out as the municipal wharf does, but will be extended in a diagonal direction, as is the Standard Oil and Santa Fe long wharfs, so that four ocean liners can load and unload at each wharf at a time—two on each side.

The construction of such immense improvements is necessarily going to take time, but the company is rushing work on their similar project at Vancouver, and as soon as that is further along the work will commence here, the two projects being almost identical, and each the largest anywhere on this continent except the famous Bush terminals at New York.

Immediately back of these wharfs, docks, warehouses and factory buildings tower several high hills of the Nicholl land, which are solid bluetrap rock, the finest quarries on the coast, and hundreds of thousands of tons of this rock will be used in the construction and fill of new land. This rock will come down by gravity right from the quarries to where it is needed, and the quarresi are to be worked from both sdes of the hills in order to speed up the work. That taken out on the city side of the hills will be crushed by a large crusher to be erected at the end of the Cutting Canal, and boats and barges will take the product out through the canal, around the point and to the construction work.

It is a busy part of Richmond over there right now, and only commencing. One of the big quarries on this Nicholl hill land is being operated on a large scale by the Hutchinson Construction Company and barge loads of the bluetrap rock go over to San Francisco and elsewhere every day. It is an interesting sight to see the belts carrying the crushed rock from the machines out to and into the boats. Close by, also, is the big brick plant of the Richmond Pressed Brick Co., of which John Gerlach is superintendent, and that is mghty busy all the time trying to keep up with orders for brick from everywhere, no small amount of them going into new brick blocks now being erected in Richmond. They also operate Nicholl land under lease and royalty basis, as does the Hutchinson Company.

The Belt Line railroad has been extended past the brick yard and to the quarry now, and will go on further as soon as construction commences on the new $5,000,000 project.

A tunnel is to be extended under the paved highway on the city side of the hills, to tap the vast store of rock in the hills there.

Engineer Taggert Aston is expected back from the Vancouver job next week and then further details will be finished on the great Richmond project and work soon commence.

FISH, EGGS, VEGETABLES TODAY

The municipal market had another big day yesterday, and was unable to supply the demand, though two big batches of sea food were placed on sale. Close to 1000 pounds of fish of several varieties went over the counter at prices about half what the people of Richmond have been accustomed to paying.

The people of Richmond and the dealers as well are beginning to understand that the alleged scarcity of food and the high prices demanded by the wholesalers, the cold storage men and the criminal fish trust have no actual foundation; that the food speculators have simply shoved up prices and held them there, taking advantage of the situation induced by the war.

Realization of these facts is coming slowly, but none the less surely.

A great food probe conducted by the government has just been concluded in Washington, and the findings, as published by the News yesterday morning, shows that speculators in the common necessities of slife have connived to place prices on food commodities at an exorbitant figure.

FISH, EGGS AND SOIL PRODUCTS

The offerings at the municipal market today will be several varieties of fish. A big catch will be on hand, and the prices will be as low as the lowest.

EGGS.

There will also be on sale all day, fresh eggs.

VEGETABLES.

Fresh vegetables will be on hand at both markets this morning. A large quantity and a good assortment has been secured, and the prices will be very low.

Come and bring your baskets, or you may get a basket at the municipal market for 10 cents.

All over the country municipalities are taking up the matter of supplying food at lower prices. Richmond is not the only place where this is being done. The Richmond city council is not the only governing body that has taken the matter up and doing something for the consumers.

Things reached a pass where something had to be done, and the people are doing it. The result will be that the retail dealers will be released from the thraldom of the criminal trusts and the results will be as good for them as for the consumer, in the long run.

The small dealer has been getting much the worst of it all along the line, and the consumer suffered as a natural consequence.

As the News has said before, and as it reiterates, this is not a battle between the city authorities and the small dealer but a battle between the people and the bloated monopolists who are waxing rich at the expense of everybody else.

VEGETABLES TODAY.

Today the Richmond municipal markets will have on sale a supply of seasonable vegetables—lettuce, radishes, carrots, onions, etc. They will be disposed of at very low prices—much lower than have been prevailing.

Come early and avoid the rush.

PRESIDENT'S DRAFT PLAN WINS OUT IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Authority to raise an army by selective draft will be given President Wilson within twenty-four hours. The end of the long legislative battle over the administration's military plan is in sight.

The House tonight agreed as a committee of the whole on Representative Julius Kahn's amendment to the army bill, which would substitute the selective draft plan for the volunteer system in the House bill. The Senate already has agreed to have a final vote on the bill tomorrow night. Complete victory for the administration is assured in both houses.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Robert M. Clark of Los Angeles appointed by Attorney General Webb to handle Mooney bribery probe. Oxman will probably be held for felony.

Nation-wide strike looms in Germany.

California Legislature passes measure for $450,000 for Normal school at Exposition grounds.

Two hundred deck and engine-room hands of the S. P. ferries have handed in their resignations and announced that they will quit with the last trip tonight unless their work schedule is acceded to. No settlement was in sight last night.

AT RICHMOND THEATER

A new Douglas Fairbanks play will be seen at the Richmond T. and D. theater Sunday. Its name is "American Aristocracy," and in it the athletic Triangle-Fine Arts star is said to have one of the most amusing roles that has yet been given him. The story tells how he foils the plot of a Mexican sympathizer, who is sending gunpowder to that country in malted milk cans, and incidentally wins the girl the filibuster had designed to marry.

And Sunday there will be a big vaudeville bill.

WIDOW GETS AWARD

The State Industrial Accident Commission has awarded Mrs. Angela Fitzpatrick $3990 by reason of the loss of her husband, who was pushed to death by the cars of the Richmond Belt Railway in the local yards two months ago.

Fitzpatrick was regarded as a careful railroad man, sober and industrious, and the award is generally approved by all. Mrs. Fitzpatrick is living in San Francisco.

This is the biggest and most important event that has ever happened in and for Richmond, and means the doubling of our population in the next few years. It can mean nothing less. Hundreds of men will be given employment by this project, and while old Point Richmond will be first to feel the throb of industry from it, the whole city must benefit far beyond the calculation of the average person who has not acquainted himself with the magnitude of the undertaking.

SHELLS RAIN ON RAMSGATE

LONDON, April 27.—Shells from a German destroyer raiding squadron falling on Ramsgate, killed a man and a woman, injured three other persons and damaged twenty-one houses and two stables, according to an official statement today.

The German warships were driven off by British land batteries. A number of their shots fell in the open country.

"Every destroyer fired at Ramsgate," the statement said. "The fire was immediately returned and the enemy driven off.

"The German attack lasted five minutes," the home office statement said, "and a hundred shell fell. The night was intensely dark. Star shells were used to illuminate the town."

ENTERTAINED HUSBANDS.

This is something like it. The Young Married Women's Club of Wesley M. E. Church met at the Renod home on 5th street Thursday evening for a social time with their husbands, who enjoyed the occasion immensely. A program was rendered and refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. A. M. George on Bissell avenue on Thursday afternoon of next week. All members are urged to be present and the ladies have something specially fine in store for them.

REDUCED WATER RATES.

Reduced water rates for Richmond consumers are to be submitted the state commission for approval by the East Bay Water Company.

MIRA VISTA ON THE EASTERN HILLS

Having a little spare time, and desiring to get away from the odor of printers' ink and fill his lungs with ozone, a representative of the News took a stroll out through the flowered fields of the Burg tract around the city hall, yesterday afternoon. As the scent of the wild flowers filled his nostrils the beckoning hills to the eastward lured him on. The roads were good and the day one to give a man energy and ambition. So the newspaper man, mentally tired, just naturally fell for the enchantment of the day and the flowers and the green fields. On he trudged and soon there loomed ahead a little colony of beautiful homes set on a slope that rises gently from the plane.

The newspaper man forgot all about weariness, mental or physical, when he found himself facing the Golden Gate from the top of the low hills. He beheld a panorama of scenic beauty that was entrancing. San Francisco and Oakland and Berkeley could be seen. San Francisco and San Pablo bays were also within the range of vision, while Tamalpais and the wooded hills of Marin islands loomed above the shimmering waves, the steamers and other craft dotted the bay, and the setting sun hung above the Gate like a globe of gold.

Mira Vista is set on a slope that overlooks a wonderful country. Already it has become a restricted residence section of Richmond, with water and sewer systems, electric lights, telephonic communication, and gas soon to be. It is within five minutes of the San Pablo car line. There are asphalt streets, cement gutters and curbs, and flowers border the lots. Richmond boulevard leads right up to it, and at the portals of the tract is a miniature park.

Mira Vista doesn't nestle in the hills—it protrudes. It sticks right up in plain sight, with beautiful homes all over. Among those who have erected pretty cottages or bungalows there are R. W. Hanna of the Standard Oil, C. M. Brewer of the Western States Gas & Electric Co., L. L. Ferrall of the East Bay Water Company, E. M. Tilden of the Tilden Lumber Company, F. M. Hartwick of the Enterprise Brewing Company, A. W. Gleason of the Standard Oil, E. H. Kueffer of E. H. Kueffer & Co., City Attorney D. J. Hall and H. W. Mergenthal of the Standard. J. F. Brooks, local superintendent of the Standard, is soon to erect a splendid home on a rocky outcrop, and J. A. Waldy of the Contra Costa Realty Company has prepared plans for a home of his own there.

These people have made a discovery which others are beginning to discover—that Mira Vista is the ideal place for a home—fine drainage, pure air and a beautiful view.

Owing to the illness of Miss Gladys McCausland, who takes one of the leading rolls in "The Snowball," the entertainment which was to have been given at the First Congregational church last evening has been postponed.

THE SPOTLIGHT

By the OLD MAN.

Anyone wanting desk room in a nice office at the Point can be accommodated by applying at this office. It is only convenient to keep the News branch office open part of the time, and we would like to have it open all of the time, so will give somebody who can use desk and office room a good deal.

We paid an informal call on Julius Stiefvater on the west side last evening, but he was so busy putting the big strawberries on the top of the boxes he hadn't time to discuss wars or politics.

Secretary Stidham of the West Side Commercial Club was busy yesterday answering inquiries sent in because of circular letters he had been mailing. And one lady, living at Los Angeles, called for further information. She will build three new houses at the Point, and Architect J. B. Osborn is making the plans for her. These sort of things, you savvy, are happening since the News went over there and stirred up the wildcats. And we are going to stir them up some more, too.

There will be a meeting of the Point Richmond Commercial Club next Tuesday evening, at Fraternal Hall, at which time and place it is desired that every live citizen of the Point make it a point to be on hand for matters of grave importance are coming up. Among them is the proposed new public bath house project, for which organization and work is now necessary. The ladies of the West Side Woman's Improvement Club are especially asked to be present, as something very interesting to them will be taken up, also. Next Tuesday evening—remember the time, and be there.

We found Garfinkle of the Economy Store measuring out calico and silk and selling a lady a corset, though how he knew whether the corset would fit or not we do not know. We did not see him take any measurements.

Some day when we get 100,000 subscribers to the News, and get rich, we are going to have a good looking lady secretary and a chauffeur, too, like John Nicholl's, that we rode around with yesterday. When Richmond was an infant John rode in a wagon with a board seat, to and from the old homestead and San Pablo, where he went to school and got a licking every day.

We caught Beckhaus up to a mean trick last evening—shipping $100 worth of groceries way off down to Turloch, to Willam DeLand, who has a contract on the state highway. We need that grub at home, but Beck said he had a little to spare.

This print shop has adopted a new rule, and will adhere to it without favor. It is that henceforth all job printing taken out of the shop must be paid for, or it don't go out. Job printing is cash at the News office from now on, and please bear that in mind, for it goes double, and makes no difference who the patron is. With paper prices way up in the sky, we simply cannot afford to carry people on the books any longer for that kind of stock and work. The paper house and the printers have to be paid weekly. We will carry an advertisement till the first of the month, as usual, but not job printing. This is an ironclad rule, and will not be broken. Henceforth all job work is C. O. D.

Dad Breck has a big hydranga plant in the window, covered with blue blossoms. It is from Japan and a novelty in this country. It is lots prettier than Dan is.

Bill Davis acts queer lately. If you see him out on the sidewalk throwing a fit, don't be alarmed; he is just giving the high sign of some local lodge. He writes lodge items all day, and writes up whist parties all night—that's about all that is going on in local socal circles.
